Booker T. Washington belongs to the present time—the era "since the war." And he has been raised up by Divine Providence to point out for his people the road to prosperity and success.

He too is an example of what the Negro may become. Born in a humble cabin in West Virginia, starting out with no advantages, sleeping in open air on his journey to the school at Hampton, Virginia, Booker T. Washington has had the pluck, patience, and talent to make himself so much of a man that the governors of states are glad to be counted among his friends and acquaintances.

My Kind Of Man.

The kind of man for me is one,
Who seeks no praise for what he's done,
Who labors not for man's applause,
But gets an honored name because,
With an honest heart for the right strives he,
And that's the kind of man for me.
The crowned with honor he does not scorn
The honest rags of the lowly born,
Good cheer and hope to all he brings,
And looks at the sunny side of things.
His manly heart is as light and free
As the morning breeze. He's the man for me.
He knows a smile and a warm hand-shake,
Oft from a stone a heart will make,
From which kind words drive out despair,
And plant an honest purpose there.
He looks for the good in men; and he
Is the kind of man I delight to see.
H. A. L.

Law Observance.

Why do we have laws?
To control those who will not control themselves.

Why are laws so often ignored?
Because law-abiding persons permit them to be.

How do law-abiding persons permit laws to be ignored?

By knowingly allowing them to be broken without protest. For instance: Article eleven (11) Section nine (9) of the town ordinance of Berea, forbids under penalty the gathering of persons on the sidewalks of the town so as to obstruct the passage.

A copy of the ordinance over the signature of the police judge, is posted in a conspicuous place on the walls inside the post office, so every one must know of the law.

How is this law treated? Hardly a day passes but persons are compelled to step off the sidewalk because of groups of persons standing on the sidewalk engaged in conversation and that conversation not always void of profanity. This may be noticed on Main St. often.

We know that nearly every one shrinks from entering complaint before the authorities, of violations of law, and we are not pleading that this shall be done, (in minor cases at least) but we do plead that each one of us who recognize that these things have a bad influence (especially on the boys) shall to the utmost of our influence to discourage the evils.

Let us quit lounging.

"Of course I will vote for Bryan but I hope McKinley will be elected." So said a man a few days ago. This man is counted a good citizen. The CITIZEN considers him a dangerous and obnoxious character. Your franchise is a sacred trust and you have no right to trifle with it. It is as dishonest to do as this man said he would as to commit perjury.

A Card.

The members of the local Y. W. C. A. are anxious to suitably celebrate Thanksgiving Day and ask your cordial aid in the enterprise. Donations of money, food, groceries, canned goods, meats, clothing, material for clothing, or anything you are prompted to contribute will be thankfully received in the west room at Ladies' Hall on Wednesday, Nov. 28.

The donations will be distributed by a selected committee as thank offerings among the sick and needy of the community. Let us show our gratitude to Our Father by communicating to and with our brethren and sisters who may need.

Make Haste to Do His Will.

The Spirit said, "Go near, and join thyself to this chariot," and Philip ran thither.

That is not what some of us do. When God gives us a call we begin to creep thither. How many creeping, limping Christians there are! They have got something to do for God's glory, and they crawl instead of run—"I have natural indisposition to occupy a post of publicity or to excite anything like general observation."

My friend, what has thy natural character to do with it? It is by your natural, or by your supernatural character, that you are going to glorify God! * * *

Read, Reflect, Act!

Mr. Covington, of Covington & Mitchell has purchased the interest of Mr. Mitchell, deceased, from the administrators, to take effect January 1, 1901. In order to meet our obligations by Jan. 1st., it will be necessary for us to do the greatest business in our career. Our entire stock in this short time must be converted into money, and we know of no better way to bring about this result quick than Extraordinary Low Prices.

After a careful consideration we concluded to name such Low Prices on every item in our store as will cause people to wonder.

It has taken a great deal of courage to do this at the very beginning of the Fall Season. But, we figure on doing a tremendous volume of business and at the same time feel that by giving mighty values that we are going to make many new and lasting Customers and increase the prestige of this store for the future. Now, we know, everybody knows that we always have given the best merchandise the market affords. For the Fall our stock of

Men's and Boy's Clothing, Furnishings, Hats, and Shoes

Is better, stronger and More Original than ever before. Of course, the early buyers will get the cream of selection and those who grasp the opportunity now will show their good judgement.
